ARE ALL EYES

DEFECTIVE?

Certainly it is that many people experience no trouble with their eyes. Naturally a very large proportion of those who consult oculists have defective eyes, because the trouble they have leads them to the consultation.

There have been quite a number of people in to see me of late who have nothing at all the matter with their eyes.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of your eyes it will afford you a great deal of satisfaction to know positively. I shall be glad to tell you.

WILL BE THROWN OPEN.

The New Building of Southern Loan and Trust Company.

Since a few of the office rooms in the new building of the Southern Loan and Trust Co. were ready for occupancy, the building has been a drawing card. Almost as fast as the offices were completed they have been taken, until the place already presents a business-like appearance.

On the second day of November the building will be completed throughout, and on that night it will be brilliant with light by its own splendid electric plant, and thrown open to the public.

It will be worth your while to take advantage of this opportunity to go through it. Besides the winding, easy stairs, the splendidly equipped elevator service will be in use.

Reading and game rooms are being fitted up for the use of the occupants of the building. An elaborate library will be placed at their disposal, consisting of papers, magazines, etc.

The entire building is heated by steam, and lighted by electricity, equipped with bath and toilet, both hot and cold water. A janitor will be in attendance both day and night.

This building is a credit to the city and stands a monument to the grit and public spirit displayed by its founders and builders. Greensboro, indeed, North Carolina, owes them a debt of thank for placing in our midst such a handsome structure, and so well equipped and well calculated to draw business to the city.

Their confidence in this city is unbounded, as they have proven, and others should take courage by what these gentlemen have done.

THE FLORAL PARADE

Will Be Photographed by Alderman, of this City.

The Twin City Daily Sentinel of yesterday contained the following:

The floral parade will take place at the Piedmont Park at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning of next week.

Those who will be in the parade are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Patterson not later than 10 o'clock a. m.

Mr. Alderman, the Greensboro photographer, will be here to take photos of the carriage before the parade.

He will be at the home of Mrs. Patterson at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and he requests those who wish pictures to be there at that time.

Card Party Last Night.

Miss Laura Ballard gave a card party to a number of friends at her home on Gorrell street last night.

After the games, refreshments were served and the guests felt greatly indebted to their charming hostess for a most delightful evening.

Boer's Advancing Slowly Upon the Town of Dundee.

THEIR LOSSES AT MAKEKING.

The Report Confirmed--A Powerful Tribe of Natives Threaten to Attack the Orange State.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Lady Smith, Oct. 19--Action begun yesterday is resumed today. Heavy fighting. All correspondents are forbidden to go to the front. The only news that can be had is brought by refugees. The Boer force began the engagement. The British are under strict orders to act solely on the defensive. An official bulletin posted here announces the beginning of hostilities.

BOERS REPULSED FROM MAKEKING.

London, Oct. 19--A Central News dispatch from Cape Town says there is reliable information from Makeking to the effect that the Boers attacked the place and were repulsed. Col. Hare led the sortie.

BOER ADVANCE BEGINS.

Lady Smith, Oct. 19--The general Boer advance upon the British position at Makeking has begun. Lady Smith is threatened upon three sides. The Orange troops have at last come through Drakenburg and are already engaging the British cavalry patrols.

Southward of here and to the north Joubert's main body of forces are hammering at the outer defenses of the British strongholds at Dundee and Glencoe. To the northwest another body of Boers have advanced to Rourke's Drift where they can cooperate with Joubert in isolating Dundee.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbors Briefly Told.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Hi Point, N. C., Oct. 19--Pete Steele, colored, lost his life by death one day this week.

Chas. L. Hill was here yesterday and said that his home was in St. Louis.

The Labor Union held their regular meeting last night. A large crowd was present.

The engine for the High Point Upholstering Works has arrived and is being put up with dispatch.

There will be a grand cake walk in the Anchor warehouse next Tuesday night by the colored people.

John Seacrest, who has been indisposed for several days, is getting better.

Uncle Tommy Seacrest, keeper of the cemetery, has been doing some needed work in the "City of the Dead" this week. The improvement is noticeable.

Sheriff J. H. Gilmer was in High Point yesterday to receive state and county tax for 1899. We are told that the sheriff was very well pleased with his collections here.

We learn from John Henry Hedgecock that his brother Charles who was thrown from his mule near Centerville Saturday afternoon is growing worse. Little hope is entertained for his recovery.

Admiral Dewey, the hero of Manila Bay, will pass through here next Tuesday morning en route to Atlanta. Wonder if he will show himself as the train goes by. It would be just like the admiral to surprise us!

"A Jay from Taylorsville is coming to town," is the catchy sign displayed on the streets advertising that show in the opera house next Monday night. No doubt the handsome play appearing on the fifth graphs will catch a large crowd. The show is alright.

HANK HOFF CHARGES FRAUD.

Famous Skipper Asserts that Ballast Was Changed on Columbia.

New York, Oct. 17--Captain Hank Hoff, who has sailed several cup defenders, including the yacht Defender, has made trouble for himself unless he can prove what he says. Hoff makes the charge that it was changed in sailing Columbia against Shamrock Monday. He says, in a signed article published in the New York Journal today, that Columbia gave evidence of having been tampered with since the previous race.

This is the same charge that Lord D. Duveen made in 1895.

Lord Duveen was brought to book by the New York Yacht Club, and when he was unable to prove even one item of his allegations before an impartial tribunal, he was ignominiously expelled from the New York Yacht Club, and went home a disgraced and discredited sportsman.

Over his own signature Captain Hoff says: "In each of the three times that the yachts have started the Shamrock has pointed as high and footed as fast and sometimes faster than Columbia. The fact is that she did not do it yesterday made me believe that Columbia's sails have been greatly improved and that she has been relieved of many pounds of ballast, for the charge that it was changed in sailing Columbia against Shamrock Monday. He says, in a signed article published in the New York Journal today, that Columbia gave evidence of having been tampered with since the previous race.

DEWEY'S SOUTHERN TRIP.

The Admiral Will Leave Washington for Atlanta Monday Night.

RAILROADS OFFER HALF FARE

To the Department Employees at Washington in Order That They May Go Home to Vote.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct. 19--Arrangements for the southern trip of Admiral George Dewey are practically completed. The party will leave Washington Monday night over the Southern for Atlanta, the party having been tendered the use of a private car by the company. This car will be attached to the regular southern train leaving Washington at 1:45 p. m.

The admiral will arrive at Atlanta Tuesday afternoon, and will remain there until Thursday night, when he will return to Washington. It is not the intention of Admiral Dewey at this time to go further south than Atlanta. This decision will be a disappointment to the people of Savannah, Jacksonville, and other cities further south, who have been hoping that he might be induced to visit their section of the country. The trip of the party, however, will carry them through the most pleasant sections of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, and there is no doubt but the passage of the party through these states will be a continuous ovation.

Atlanta, it is understood, will send a delegation to Washington for the purpose of escorting the admiral on his presidential tour of the South. It is said that not more than one in 500 of the inhabitants of Massachusetts are without library facilities. This should be the condition everywhere, and it may be at no very distant time, if those who should be most interested--the teachers of the country--will make a unanimous, persistent and continued effort in this direction. There is nothing that appeals to the public more generally, or to which they will respond more readily and liberally, than an effort to establish free public libraries, if the work is carried on with good judgment.

"The teachers of a town should know the public library, what it contains, and what use the pupils can make of it. The librarian must know the school, its work, its needs, and what he can do to meet them. He must be able to supplement and broaden the work of the school by his reading, science, history or literature. He should make lists for collateral reading in history--not merely works on history, but biography, historical fiction and poems treating on historical events.

"Children must be directed and trained in regard to their reading. They can no more be trusted to get their own knowledge of and taste for literature, unaided, than they can to get their scientific and mathematical training in the same way.

"It is the duty of the state to see that its citizens know how to read, it is certainly no less its duty to see that they are trained to do the right kind of reading; otherwise, the ability to read may be harmful rather than beneficial, both to the individual and to the state."

TRAIN TO SAVANNAH.

The Seaboard Air Line Purchases a Short Line.

"We have not altered our plan for having through trains over our own line from Richmond to Florida, on January 1, and from that date on," said Mr. John Skelton Williams, president of the Georgia & Alabama, the Florida Central & Peninsular and the Seaboard Air Line, Monday.

President Williams and the officials of the three lines are looking forward with great interest to the time when this junction may be effected and the three become one great continuous system. Two or three days ago Mr. Williams completed negotiations and purchased a short line of railway from Hamlet, N. C., to Cheraw, S. C. It will form one of the links of the system and afford connection at Cheraw with the line that is being built from there to Columbia.

The road from Cheraw to Columbia is progressing well. Mr. Williams does not apprehend that it will not be in complete readiness for the passage of trains by January 1. It, with the Palmetto Railroad, that runs from Hamlet to Cheraw, will be about 100 miles long. With its completion the Seaboard will be joined with the Florida Central & Peninsular and the way to the far south opened up.

It is the business policy of the Provident Savings to give the assured their insurance at the lowest possible cost to them, instead of building up a monumental surplus, in which they do not participate, but for the possible benefit of those who never contribute to it--The Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21st, 1899.

PUBLIC LIBRARY CHAT.

The Relation of the Library to the Work of Education.

The following interesting article appeared in the September number of the North Carolina Journal of Education copied from the report of the National Council Committee on the Relation of the Library to the School:

"At the present time, when every district school and village hamlet has a public library, and the Pterian spring of knowledge flows so largely for the common weal, the relation of the library and the public school, and the best methods for systematic reading are of more than ordinary interest to the general public. The time was, not long ago, when libraries were few and their efficiency at a low ebb, but, with modern methods of circulation and the increased interest on the part of the people in education, the library has come to be a very important factor in the life of every municipality. In its report the committee recognizes this fact, and has the following to say regarding the interdependence of schools and libraries:

"The education gained at school must, with the great majority of people, be meager at the best. This may be, and should be, supplemented by extensive reading after the school life is finished. If this work is to be done well, and under favorable conditions, the pupil must, while in school, not only be trained to like good literature, but also, if possible to use a public library intelligently."

"The library must be regarded as an important and necessary part of the system of public education. It is said that not more than one in 500 of the inhabitants of Massachusetts are without library facilities. This should be the condition everywhere, and it may be at no very distant time, if those who should be most interested--the teachers of the country--will make a unanimous, persistent and continued effort in this direction. There is nothing that appeals to the public more generally, or to which they will respond more readily and liberally, than an effort to establish free public libraries, if the work is carried on with good judgment.

WHAT A QUEER AGE IS THIS!

The Raleigh Biblical Recorder, the organ of the Baptists in North Carolina, takes up the burden of the "slandered" Olds and consumes considerable space in defense of his campaigns in Luzon and in some highly unbecoming satirizing of the position taken by nearly every paper in the state—and for that matter, all over the country—on the expansion question.

If we may believe the reports of scores of respectable and responsible newspaper men, and men standing high in the army, as Gen. King and Gen. Wheeler, and various other witnesses, Gen. Olds is a miserable failure as the commander of the American army in Luzon, and the fact is so notorious that a discussion of it would border on the ridiculous.

But the most interesting part of this late "tack" of the Biblical Recorder is its defense of American imperialism—taking the "religious" defense, the weakest one of all. McKinley, with all his "broad understanding," is not in favor of the new policy of the United States for the religious reason. He was drawn into the game by the attraction of the alleged lure to be gained out of the conquest of the islands. It is a strange thing to the Telegram how a consecrated and conscientious instrument of the Christian religion, as our contemporary professes to be, and the mouth-piece of a great church, should favor such an anomalous and un-Christian plan of disseminating the seeds of the gospel as to send half of a pagan nation to hell in order that the other half may have an opportunity to accept the Bible truths, and of which there is only a very remote and sad possibility of their doing, in the light of the manner in which it is submitted them—through the fire-belching muzzles of guns in the hands of a body of men who are not, in any manner, meek and lowly.

This is a queer age, and queer things are happening every day. But perhaps some light on the secret of our contemporary's position on the most important question before our people today, and upon which doubtless depends the destiny of this nation, may be obtained through a perusal of the following paragraph from the Asheville Citizen:

The Biblical Recorder, as we understand it, is a republican organ traveling under the cloak of the church; in more polite language, a republican that is wearing the livery of Heaven so as to better serve the Devil. We understand that by reading the Recorder, its advocacy of the McKinley plan of civilizing and christianizing foreign nations reminds us very forcibly of its plan to educate the young people of North Carolina by depriving the University of North Carolina and the Greensboro Normal of much needed funds.

FORTUNATE FOR TUCK.

In a recent issue in the News and Observer contained an editorial from which we make the following extract:

"Mr. Edwin Tuck, of Paris, has recently sent a gift of $300,000 to Dartmouth to be expended in the maintenance of a superior faculty and in increasing the efficiency of the college library. The worth of the college is now estimated at two million dollars. North Carolina colleges need to have their friends inoculated with the Tuck spirit."

We are glad that Mr. Tuck was "tuck" with a giving spirit, but what sounds amazing is that the News and Observer wants the friends of North Carolina colleges inoculated with the Tuck spirit. Mr. Tuck is praised for doing elsewhere what North Carolinians are censured and abused for doing in North Carolina. And who knows but that Tuck made the $300,000 selling cigarettes in Paris?

But few people in North Carolina care anything especially about Dartmouth, as that institution interferes and competes with nothing here, therefore Mr. Tuck is a dandy. Let him drop half that amount in the lap of Trinity or Wake Forest, and the pack will open on the trail with a frosty morning yelp that will make him wish he didn't have the giving spirit.

One astronomer predicts more than the shower of stars on the night of November 13. He says that the comet "will come in contact with the earth" at this visitation, and that the earth will be destroyed in the collision. We, however, are assured by a French astronomer that should the comet collide with the earth, there would be no injury to the earth but that the damage would be entirely to the comet. However, the shower of stars will be expectedly awaited and there will probably be little sleep on the night of the 13th and 14th for the spectacle escape us.

The following taken from the editor of the Charlotte Observer's excellent "Notes of Foreign Travel," is very good:

It is surprising to find so many people in Germany and France speaking the English language. They are found in the railroad stations, hotels, cafes, stores, everywhere. The writer had his first surprise in Bremen, where he went into a hat store to make a purchase. The proprietor met him near the door and fired a volley of German at him. It was no go, and a period of silence was followed by another volley. "Speak English?" said I. "Well," he replied, "not much, but I reckon enough to sell you a hat." But not all English speaking Germans are as clear-cut as this one. In a cafe I picked up a German morning paper and in running over it saw a dispatch with the New York date line and the name of Mr. Bryan in the body of the article. The waiter stopped to translate the telegram. He looked at it, carried the paper off, and returning with it, said, "Vell, it seems dot Mr. Breen mix up too much mit der money, and now der law is after him."

The Plan With the Jag.

(With apologies and thanks to Markham.)

Bowed by the weight of mountain dew he leans
Aga, eat a tree and mumbles o'er his dream,
The senseless-ness of ages in his face
And on his back such clothes as Prohib. never wore.
Who made him dead to all that passed his way,
A thing that toils merely to buy the drink,
Babbling and bear-eyed, a brother to the hog?
Who loosened and let down this wagging jaw?
Who was the hand that raised a'off the cup?
Whose breath doth show he hath but little brain?
Is this the Thing the Lord God made and gave
To have dominion in the Sulu Sultan's land;
To count the stars and swear that he alone hath power
To his and reel until Eternity?
Is his a dream a real man should want to dream—
Cats and monkeys and snakes and things?
Down all the street to its last crooked pole
There is no shape more drunk than this—
More blind to even all the world's blind greed—
More filled with moonshine as he gals and leans
And tries to tell his troubles to a cop.
What gulf between him and the loved at home!
Slave to the stuff that cheers, what to him
Are Christmas and July the Fourth?
What the sublimity of Pisgah and the Pat,
The Vanderbilt estate, and even Look-out Park?
Through the red eyes the suffering ages look,
Night's tragedy following a free lunch fed,
Through this poor shape a sermon comes.
Thundered with each jabbered word,
Crying a warning, beware of moonshine!
A warning that too few will heed,
And thus must go before Judge Ewart or Judge Brown—
Is this the end you'd like to reach?
This drunken thing which sways and talks,
How will you ever straighten up this shape,
Put back the light of horse sense in its eye.
Give back the tin that's gone for drink,
Rebuild it for a useful life, not dreams,
Make right the hundred, hundred infamies
Till Thing hath leaped on helpless heads?
How can we do this needful thing,
Except we take him to the public pump
And there proceed to hold his head
Beneath the wetness for an hour or two?
How will it be with kingdoms and with kings
Who nurse the bottle with most jealous care—
Shall rulers avoid the lantern nose,
Escaping the law of centuries? Nil!
—Tatler, in Asheville Citizen.

A Frightful Blunder

Will often cause a horrible burn, scald, cut or bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures old sores, fever sores, ulcers, boils, felonies, corns, all skin eruptions. Best cure on earth. Only 25c a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 60c.

BIG FEE FOR A LAWYER.

Judge Moore Got $10,000,000 for Promoting a Trust.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—The industrial commission continued its inquiry into the trust question today, the witnesses being President Daniel G. Reid, of Chicago, of the American Tinplate Company; William Reis, of Chicago, president of the National Steel Company; Charles S. Guthrie, of Pittsburgh, president of the American Steel Hoop Company; and Judge Wm. H. Moore, of Chicago, the promoter of these and other trusts.

Mr. Reid said that Judge Moore had organized the combination and had received for his services $10,000,000 worth of common stock. The consolidation has been made to prevent absolute failure, as many of the tinplate establishments were rapidly drifting into bankruptcy.

The price of the product had increased rapidly since the organization and there had been a corresponding advance in wages. He estimated that the increase in wages and in employment would represent an enlarged payroll of $2,000,000 annually.

The rolling millmen in the establishment were paid as high as $10 per day, the highest price paid to any laborers in the world. The average wages of their employees were $2.30 per day.

The advance made in the price of the finished product had not been equal to that of the raw material and of wages. The testimony of Mr. Reis agreed in many respects with that of Mr. Reid, especially in regard to the increase in wages and the advance in the prices of raw material. His company, he said, was capitalized for $50,000,000, of which $27,000,000 was preferred and the remainder common. He declared that his company sold its products to any one that wanted to buy, and that its sales were not confined to the Tinplate Company, as had been alleged.

The capacity of the combine is about 5,000 tons per day, or about 18 per cent of the total production of the country. Prices of steel had increased since last year from $10.33 to $22.50 per ton, and of steel billets from $1.31 to from $3.4 to $3.3.

Mr. Reis differed from the other witnesses in his estimate of the effect of the tariff, saying that directly it did not benefit his industry in the least. He said that his company did business with the tinplate company on the same basis as with other patrons, but admitted that the relations of the two companies were confidential. His company, he said, paid in regular dividend of seven per cent, on the preferred stock, but had never paid any dividend on the common stock.

The profits of the company were in excess of the amount paid in dividends. Asked if there was any prospect for dividends on the common stock, he replied: "We have hopes," and added that he could make a statement of earnings, but that he would not like to do so. He declared that the steel company was not a trust as that word was ordinarily employed.

Mr. Guthrie said that he found the combination of the interests represented in the Steel Hoop Company of vast advantage in many ways, especially in securing a foreign market.

Judge Moore, who had organized the American Tinplate Company, the National Steel Company and the American Steel Hoop Company, and also other combinations, explained his methods at length. The organization of the Tinplate Company has been undertaken at the request of the owners of a number of tinplate establishments.

WADDELL ON THE SENATORSHIP.

Will Be a Candidate Under Certain Conditions.

Col. A. M. Waddell writes the Raleigh News and Observer as follows: Wilmington, Oct. 17.—To the editor: As one of the persons whose names have been published in connection with the United States senatorship, (although without authority as far as I am concerned) I desire to say to the public what I have said to individuals who have spoken to me on the subject, viz:

1. That if the next democratic state convention, in accordance with the resolution of the last one in favor of the election of senators by the people, shall order party primaries to ascertain the will of the democrats in the state, I expect to be a candidate; but if the machine method of securing members of the legislature pledged in advance is to be pursued, I will not be a candidate.

2. That the primaries ought to be held, and the Senatorial canvass conducted after the August election, and not before.

3. That I am not now making any canvass, and will not do so until I know whether there are to be primaries or not.

4. That I will cheerfully unite with all other aspirants in a pledge not to solicit, directly or indirectly, any vote until after the August election.

5. That, in my opinion, no man worthy to be senator would hold that office contrary to the will of a majority of his own party.

If there is any more candid or plain way to state my position on the matter than this, I do not know it.

Alfred Moore Waddell.

REV. S. A. DONAHOE

Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Point Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold, which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

James Reed Injured.

Mr. James Reed struck his leg again a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physician, also used several kinds of ointment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave it any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Mr. Reed is one of the leading merchants of Clay Court House, W. Va. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Chief Scott went to the fair today.
O. C. Wyong has gone to South Carolina on a business trip.
H. G. Springs, of Charlotte, was in the city today and went to Raleigh.
Mr. Washington Duke and W. A. Erwin, of Durham, were in the city today.
Mrs. Martin Lucas left on the morning train for Washington, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. B. N. Smith.
Davis street, running parallel with South Elm, is an admirable location for wholesale houses. The owners of property there should stick a pin here, and start the ball.
Miss Myrtle Peed, of Durham county, spent last night in the city, the guest of her friend Miss Daisy Carraway, and went home this morning. She has been visiting for some time in Winston.
This Indian summer weather is a good time to lay in a supply of fuel before the winter weather comes. By a little forethought and effort now on the part of citizens, a repetition of the scenes of last winter may be avoided.
Dr. Griffith is erecting bill boards in various places in and around the city. He had a nice one tacked on the side of the McCauley building, but it seems there was a misunderstanding about the permission to put it there and it was today torn down.
An amusing case is being heard by Judge Eckel this afternoon, in which two farmers from Jamestown are contending over the killing of some sheep. The parties are represented by able counsel, Messrs. Scott and Bynum, Jr., on one side and Col. Barringer on the other.

THE A. M. E. ZION CHURCH.

Aid Solicited to Finish the New Church

Please help a good cause. We are struggling to finish our church for the meeting of the annual conference, which convenes here Nov. 22d, 1899. We have done what we could.

Now we are forced to appeal to the public. Next Sunday, 22d inst., we desire to raise four hundred dollars ($400.00).

Beginning Friday night with a grand biblical scenery, such as we have never witnessed in our church, under the management of Elder A. R. Spencer, of Alabama. One of the grand attractions will be Mrs. A. R. Spencer, who is an eloquentist. She will display her talent of reading, lectures and debates on the Bible. Come one, come all and help a good cause. Admission 10 cents.

The trustees of A. M. E. Zion church solicit aid from our many white friends. Also we make an appeal to all the churches of the city, both white and colored.

See our very great need, please no one turn him away.
Respectfully yours,
Rev. R. L. Houston,
Washington Farris, chairman.
C. W. Haden, secretary.

THE SALES TODAY.

Tobacco Notes—Bidding Spirited—Largest of the Season.

It is a pleasure to note the improvement and growth in our tobacco market. A gentleman who is very much interested in it said today that Greensboro merchants are beginning to wake up to this important feature of our industrial welfare and are attending the sales and in other ways showing their interest. It is well, for this has been long enough neglected.
Today's sales were the largest of the season and a good lot of smoking tobacco showed up. All our buyers were out in full force and the sale was a very lively one with spirited bidding, sometimes becoming enthusiastic with the highest price of the season; in fact, our market is beginning to blossom as the rose.
The farmers of this section know a good thing when they see it and are bringing their tobacco to Greensboro.

TRAGEDY IN CHARLESTON.

A. F. Pittman Slays His Brother in the Hotel Calhoun.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 18.—N. T. Pittman, of Greensboro, S. C., was shot and killed at the Hotel Calhoun, today, by his brother, A. J. Pittman, of Summerville. There had been bad blood between the two men for some time on account of business differences, but efforts had been made to reconcile them. Both of the brothers are past middle age, and they are both well known in this section of the state.
They met at the hotel by appointment and went into a reading room to talk business. A few minutes later A. J. Pittman began firing at his brother. He shot five times, three bullets taking effect and death being almost instantaneous. He claims to have acted in self defense, but upon what grounds are not yet known. A. J. Pittman was arrested and locked up at once, and Coroner Rivers will hold an inquest over the remains of his victim tomorrow. The prisoner appeared perfectly cool, but declined to discuss the tragedy at length.

The results accomplished by the Provident Savings during the past two and a half years will bear comparison with any kindred institution. Its practical reforms and its improved policies are recognized by all agents who make life insurance a profession and by the insuring public—Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21, 1899.

The Reason.
"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Packler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saved thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. Howard Gardner.

A CARD.

Rev. J. C. Troy Returns Thanks to His Friends for Their Sympathy.

This morning, sitting on the porch, almost in sight of the grave of my sainted wife I write this card, in which I wish to return thanks to all the friends who have expressed such deep sympathy for me in the most terrible hour of my life. I am touched beyond expression with the tender messages that come to me through the press, wire and mail. The precious words touch me deeply; and as my strength will not permit anything like personal replies, I take this method of expressing to you the gratitude of my heart. And yet, I know I must bear the burden alone. The blessed Savior, even, should not be expected to carry all our burdens.

"Must Jesus bear the cross alone,
And all the world go free?
No; there's a cross for every one,
And there's a cross for me."

I know that she would not have me faint by the way. And now that her precious self has gone out of my home and sight, I will be brave; and sustained and comforted by the grace of God and the presence of her spirit, I will go on and do the work that lies out before me. And whether the way be short or long, I will be faithful to the end. Louise and I are very lonely without her; but we have the hope of seeing her again.

A few minutes before closing her eyes in sleep she recognized me as I sat by her side. She told me of her love. And then I said: "Ella, here is Louise." And immediately she replied: "Beigho, Louise." And after saying the doctor's question as to how she felt, saying "I feel better," she went to sleep.

All that human skill could do to save her was done; and the sympathetic, faithful physicians, in attendance from the first to the last of the fearful sufferings, have my thanks and love. Louise tells me to copy the following words:

"No chance has brought this ill to me;
'Tis God's sweet will, so let it be.
He seeth what I cannot see."

There is a need for each pain,
And He will make it one day plain
That earthly loss is heavenly gain."
